Noted Canadian L. W. Brockington To open theatre

A distinguished Canadian orator whose voice is known throughout the English-speaking world as well as in his own country comes to Newmarket on Thursday next, July 27, to deliver a special address.

He is Leonard W. Brockington, C.M.G., K.C., head of the J. Arthur Rank film interests in Canada and president of Odeon Theatres. He speaks at the opening of the new Roxy Theatre here on that date.

Mr. Brockington has been active in the Canadian operations of the J. Arthur Rank interests since the entry into Canada of this British motion picture organization. In fact, Mr. Rank, addressing the Empire and Canadian clubs in Toronto on one of his Canadian trips referred to him as the man responsible for the decision to expand into Canada.

He described a wartime visit from Mr. Brockington, then advisor on commonwealth affairs to the British minister of information, who had so impressed him with the growing importance of Canada that acquisition of the circuit of theatres and other Canadian interests had been undertaken.

Although one of the dominion's most distinguished lawyers and counsel to the Ottawa legal firm of Gowing, McTavish, Watt, Osborne and Henderson, Mr. Brockington is best known as one of the few private citizens of this country who have become international public figures.

Mr. Brockington was the first chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. During the first two years of the war, he was special assistant to the prime minister. Subsequently, he was for a time advisor on commonwealth affairs to Mr. Brendan Bracken, British minister of information. Mr. Brockington's numerous wartime broadcasts over CBC, BBC, all the domestic U.S. networks, over the shortwave networks of the office of U.S. wartime information, and the broadcasting systems of Australia and New Zealand are well remembered.

Mr. Brockington has been highly honored by the lawyers of Canada, Great Britain and the United States. He is one of the two Canadians who are honorary life members of the Canadian Bar Association, an Honorary Benchers of the Inner Temple, London, and an honorary member of the Bar Association of the United States and of the Bar of the City and State of New York.

As a speaker Mr. Brockington has been the guest at six annual meetings of the American Bar Association, at three meetings of the American Bankers Association and at four meetings of the Bar of the City and State of New York. He has also addressed very many gatherings in Canada, the United States, Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand. He is the holder of many honorary degrees and is at present Rector of Queen's University. He is also honorary counsel of the Boy Scouts Association of Canada and honorary life member of the Canadian Legion.

PLAY AT CONCERT

The Newmarket Citizens' Band played at an outdoor concert on Sunday afternoon and evening at Indianola Beach. In the evening, there was also a barbershop quartet, a tap dancing team and piano soloist.

Whitchurch appeals Against York method Of equalization

Whitchurch township has appealed against the county's method of equalizing the 1950 assessment. A by-law entering the appeal was passed at the last township council meeting. Four other municipalities, King, Markham, Vaughan and Scarboro townships, are also appealing.

The five townships voted against the assessment report at county council meeting, but the report carried, and will form the basis for 1951 county taxes.

The Whitchurch council insists that the basis of assessment is unfair because it rests on 1940 values. Since then, it contends, urban values have soared but farm values have remained comparatively stable.

Clerk John Crawford read a report before council to substantiate the argument that the farms in the township are assessed very much closer to their actual selling value than are the urban properties. Instances were cited where farms in the $10,000 bracket had changed hands several times in the last few years and the assessed value of these farms, put on them by county assessors, was approximately $9,000.

Residential properties selling from $10,000 to $15,000 were shown to have an assessment of less than 30 percent.

While the township county rate, even under the present method of assessment, is down 1.6 mills, council feels that the principle used in determining the values of urban and rural properties is wrong.

Police shots end wild chase Past road blocks on Yonge St.

Two Toronto youths were charged with car theft and dangerous and careless driving after an early Monday morning chase up Yonge St. The boys were captured by provincial police north of Aurora after several warning shots had been fired over their heads.

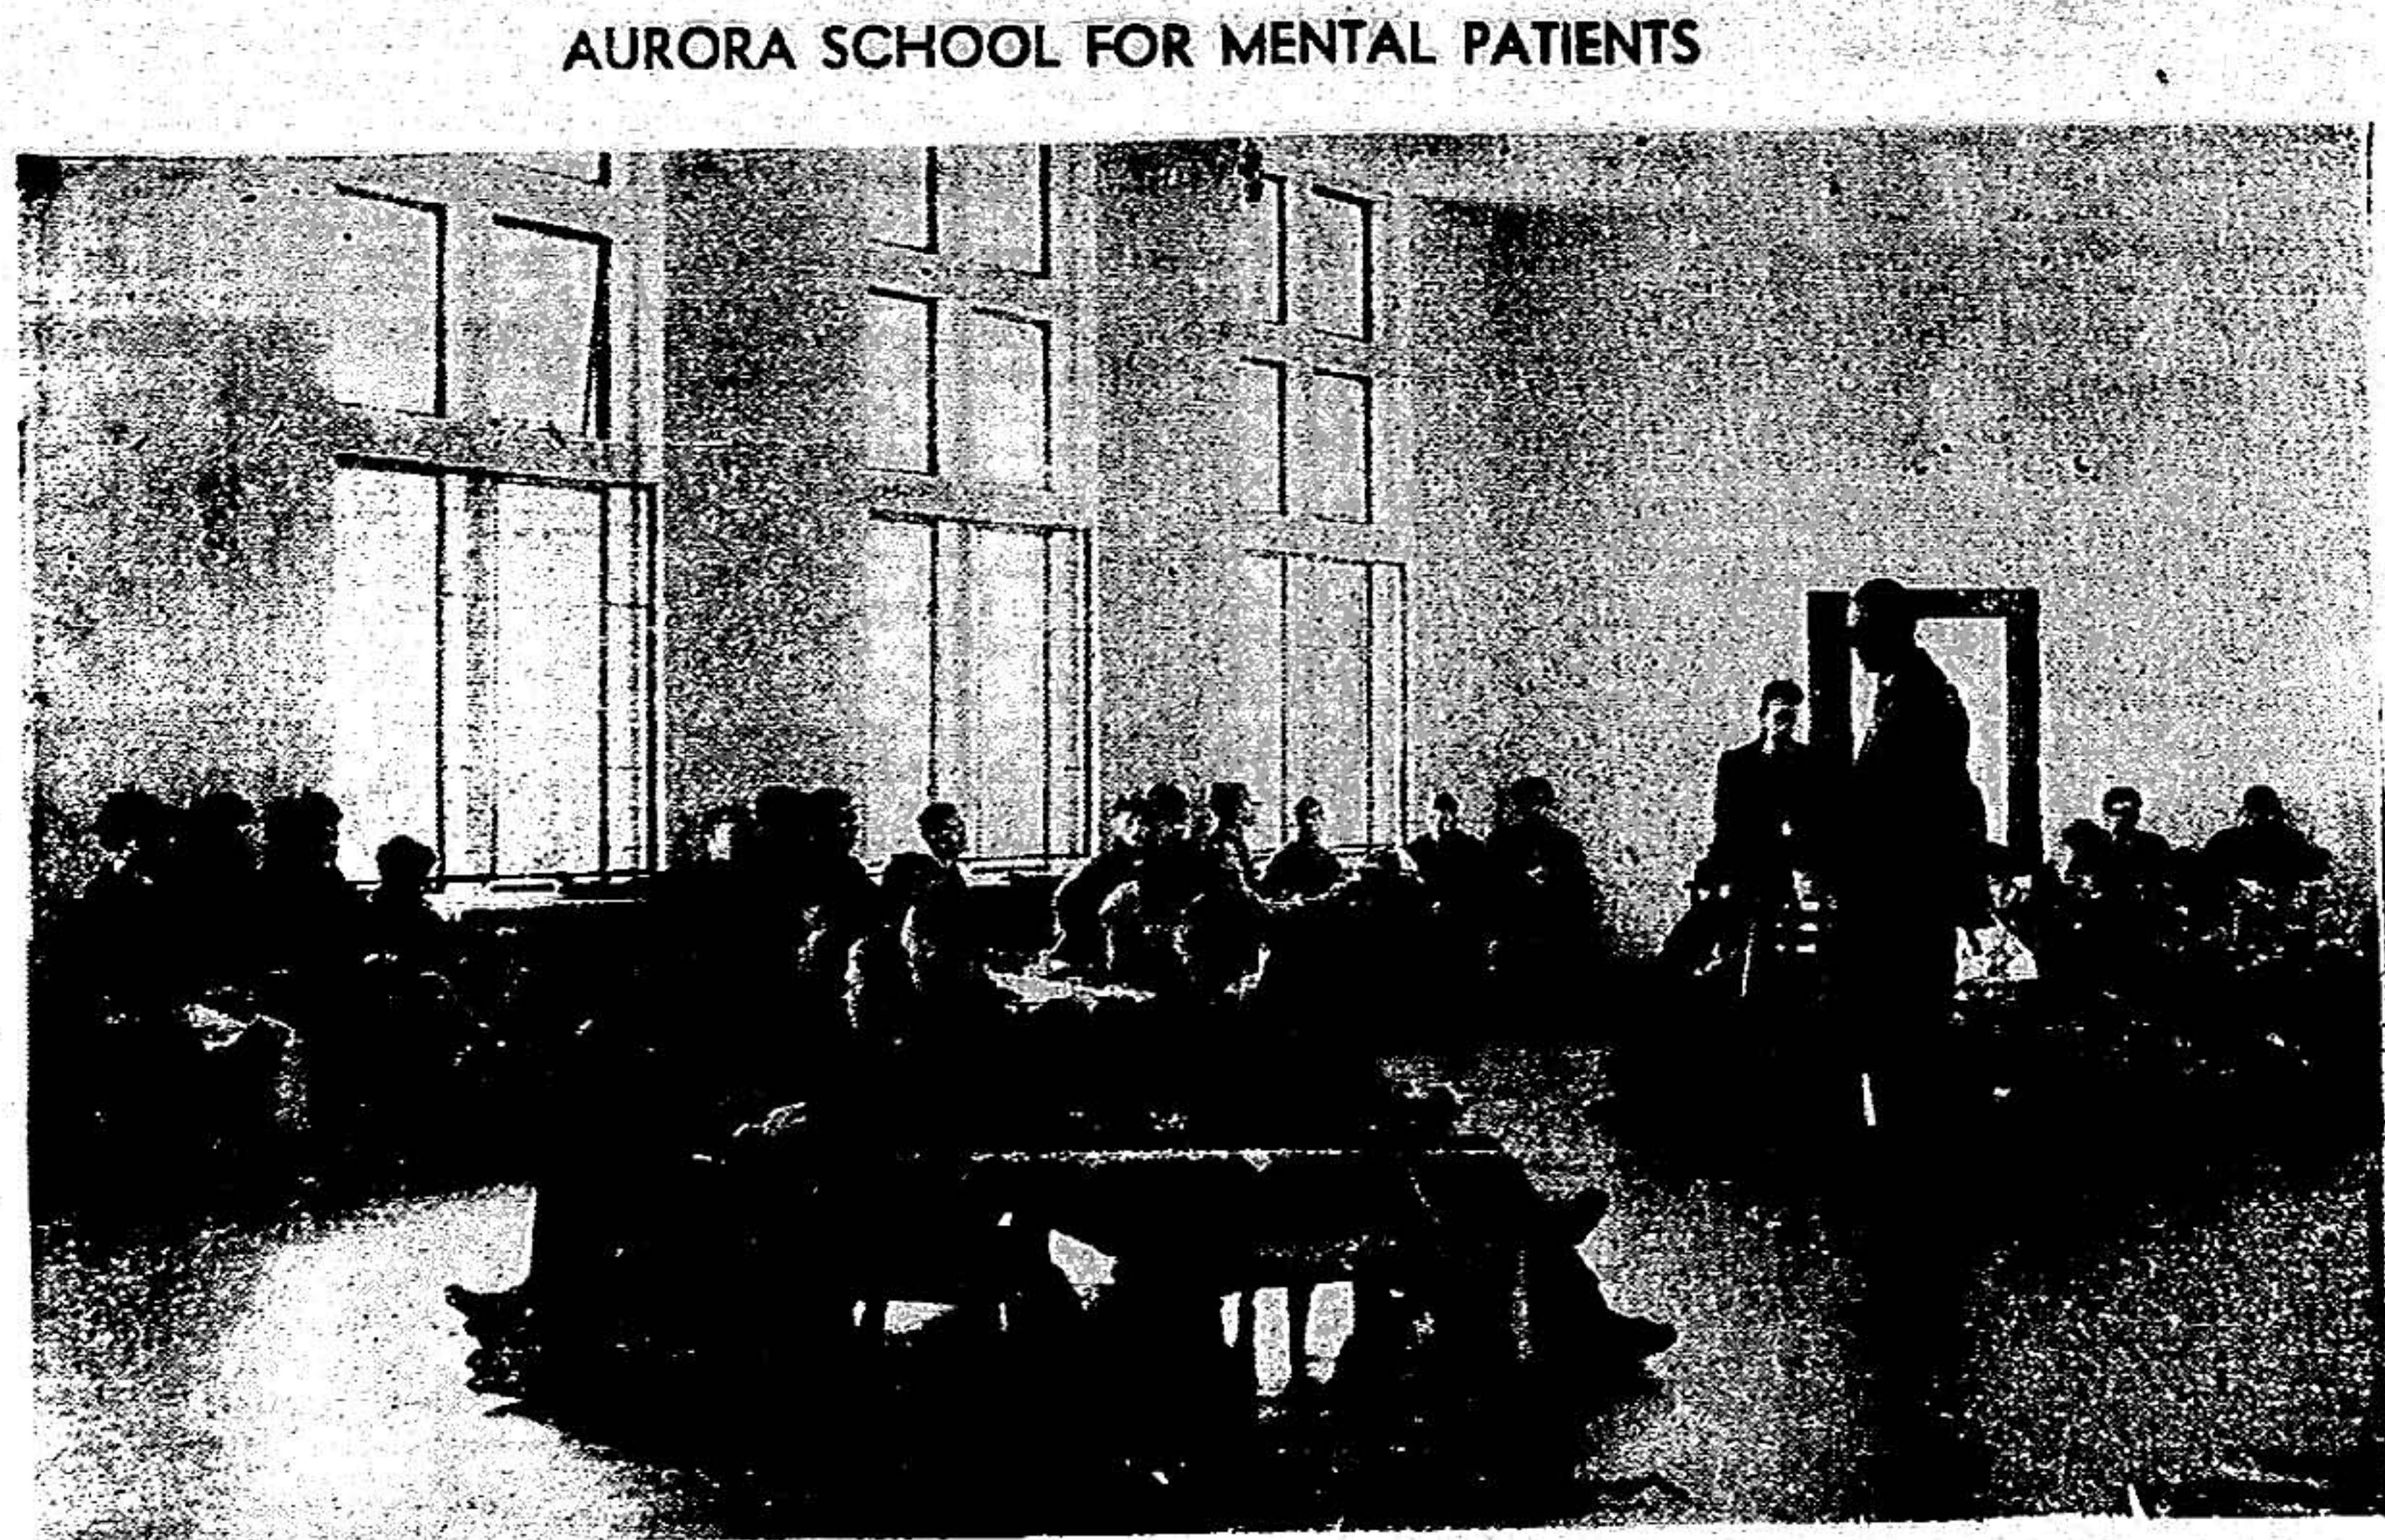

The chase began at Willowdale when Provincial Constables Ron Seyffert and Charles Case attempted to overtake a speeding north-bound auto at 2 a.m. Monday morning. It ended 30 miles later when the car was halted after police shots had been fired and the two occupants tried to escape over the fields north of Aurora.

"The car was all over the highway," said Constable Seyffert, following the capture. "The driver swung the car back and forth across the road in front of us to prevent us from overtaking and passing him and when we tried to pull alongside him he would try to force us off the highway. South-bound cars were forced to take to the shoulder of the road and the ditch with numerous near-collisions," he said.

Attempting to halt the car in Aurora, Aurora Constable William Langman was forced to jump to the side of the road as the car continued without slackening its speed, missing the officer by inches.

When the car evaded the last roadblock, Constable Seyffert, fired five shots at it, forcing it to stop. The passenger jumped out and tried to get away through the fields. Shots fired over his head halted him.

The car was owned by Harry Herman, 1015 Ossington Ave., and had been stolen shortly after midnight. According to police, the youths had spent the weekend at Jackson's Point and were returning to Toronto when they ran out of gas at Thornhill. Abandoning the car, the boys returned to Toronto and were on their way back for the car when first noticed by police.

TOWN TALKS PURCHASE OF LOTS FOR PARK

Mayor Joseph Vale was authorized to discuss the purchase of four lots in the centre of the Veterans' Land Act subdivision on Davis Dr. following the appearance of a delegation of property-owners at council on Monday night. The delegation asked that the lots be made into a playground and park for that neighborhood.

Mickey Smith, spokesman for the delegation, said that the property-owners, members of the Sunny Hills Home Owners Association, were unable to purchase the lots themselves because they did not have a charter.

"The V.L.A. has these lots listed as housing lots with a $260 price on them but will sell them to the town at $100 each for use as a park," he said. "We will prepare them for a playground for the children in the neighborhood."

He pointed out that there were 50 children living on the subdivision and that all the lots had now been sold. "There are 14 new homes building there now," he added.

The delegation also asked that steps be taken to prevent excessive speeds along residential roads and the council assured them signs would be placed.

There was a discussion on the financing of sidewalks for the area but no decision was reached.

TRUMPET BAND WINS DOUBLE TRIUMPH

The Newmarket Trumpet Band was awarded two first prizes at the first annual tattoo at Highland Creek on Saturday. The band was awarded a first for marching and a first for playing in competition with two other bands, The Temaraire Sea Cadets and 22nd Air Cadet Band.

The band is now preparing for its third annual tattoo and carnival which this year will be held on Friday and Saturday, August 11 and 12. Twelve to 15 entries are expected in the tattoo, and there are seven classes. The carnival will be held Friday and Saturday evenings and the competitions on Saturday afternoon.

The band is instructed by James Bradford who at Waterloo won the senior first prize for drumming. Many members of the band showed good standings in individual contests at Waterloo. Frank Burling placed first in senior trumpet, Bob Stephenson fourth, Jack Shropshire second in junior trumpet, Bob Stickwood fourth, Jack McCann second in junior drum.

The band is now seeking additional members. Uniforms and instruments are provided and instruction is given any who would like to join the band. The band is meeting next Monday at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

The former De La Salle training school just south of Aurora has been turned into a modern school for mentally defective patients by the province. There are now 250 patients there. Pictured here is one of games and lounge rooms on the top floor of the building and the attendant is seen talking to the boys during rest period. The school is under the direction of Dr. W. A. Reddick, veteran official of the department of health.

STORM FORCES RECESS

Magistrate lectures Court on traffic act

The storm that broke last Thursday over Newmarket and district was sufficiently severe to halt proceedings in Newmarket magistrate's court. The room was too dark to take the court record and the noise of the storm was too loud for the court to hear witnesses.

However, Magistrate Hollinrake put the recess to good advantage with a lecture on the Highway Traffic Act and the need for observance of its terms.

The entire agenda was composed of charges of infractions of the Highway Traffic Act. These included one dangerous driving and three careless driving and a list of speeding offenders.

It was following the evidence given in the case of Harry Sonshine, noted rugby player for Queens and Argos, charged with careless driving, that the magistrate spoke with conviction.

"Why the Highway Traffic Act is not more publicized I do not know," he said. "Many of us passed our driver's test some time ago and have forgotten the rules read to us at that time."

"Harry Sonshine is charged with the section of the Traffic Act that deals with the use of the middle lane of a three-lane highway as a passing lane only. It has become the practice on weekends when traffic is heavy to use this lane as a driving lane. If motorists were more familiar with the Act they would realize this is breaking the law."

Magistrate Hollinrake said he has made a request for copies of the Act to be in court each session. These he intends to give to every offender and their counsel. He impressed those in court, both witnesses and accused, with the importance of making a study of the act. He added:

Car blows tire, rolls over Four badly shaken

Four Newmarket travellers received a rough shaking when their car was overturned after a blow-out at Geraldton on the Trans-Canada highway last Thursday. Mrs. H. G. Gibbons, her two daughters, Elsie and Alice, Mrs. Mary Webster and Mr. Robert Allen, Timmins, a brother of Mrs. Gibbons, were able to continue their trip after a medical check-up and rest. They were returning from a two-week trip to Western Canada.

Town committee visits Sewage disposal plant

Reeve Arthur Evans and Councillors Frank Bowser and Tom Birrell inspected the sewage disposal plant at Lindsay last week. The committee is visiting other installations in preparation to planning a disposal plant for Newmarket.

"We will be meeting with an engineer shortly to decide upon a site for a Newmarket disposal plant," Reeve Evans said.

ATTEND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Thorold Miller and son, Donald, attended the wedding of their elder son, Mr. Cecil Miller, and Miss Catharine Nixon, Saturday, July 15, at the Metropolitan church, Toronto.

ed that the more drivers become familiar with the contents of the leaflet, the less probability there will be of a continuous rise in the accident rate.

BOY, 5, DROWNS AT ELMHURST WAS ON TUBE

Five-year-old Frederick "Rickie" Howland, of Toronto, was drowned at Elmhurst Beach, shortly after noon Sunday, when he slipped from an inner-tube on which he was playing. Rickie and his sister, Deanne, 10, had gone swimming at the crowded north park beach, and the youngster was playing in the water less than 200 feet from the beach. The water is shallow for more than 150 yards from shore.

No one realized that the child was in trouble until Mrs. E. Lee, Toronto, heard people remark about a child that was "floating" on the water. "No, he's drowning," she said, as she plunged into the water, fully clothed, lifting the small body from the water. She handed him to another woman who was standing close by.

Mr. Jack Ferguson, Leaside, was the first to apply artificial respiration, and he was followed by Ernest Lee, husband of the woman who had discovered Rickie in the water. Dr. J. M. Rae, Toronto, and Coroner Mr. M. D. Tuchtle assisted, as well as Cecil Carpenter, Sutton.

Mr. Carpenter rounded up eight men who rushed to the scene with Hydro life saving equipment. For fear of driving water back into the child's lungs however, the pullmotor was not applied for any length of time. Hector Lawrence, of Toronto, drove to Roche's Point for an inhalator, while his son, Art Lawrence, raced to York County hospital, Newmarket, for an oxygen tent.

For more than three hours, cottagers and doctors worked over the body, watching patiently for a flicker of life. Late in the afternoon, rescue workers were forced to give up, and coroner Dr. M. D. Tuchtle declared the child dead.

Frederick "Rickle" Howland was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Howland, Lee Ave., Toronto. Mr. Howland had brought his family to the beach and then returned to the city. The family had rented a cottage near to the north park, where the lad drowned.

Beach Association president William Thompson said afterwards that there had been less than two feet of water in the place where Rickie was playing. "I am told that the boy was playing in a tube," he said, "and whenever we see that we ask the children to stop."

He added, "We regard tubes as death traps. Children float out beyond their depth on them, slip off, and then get into trouble."

PASS DEBENTURES

The Newmarket council on Monday night gave final reading to a by-law authorizing the issuance of debentures for a new heating plant for King George school at a cost of $10,000.

New phone rates Effective July 22 Up .60 for homes

Bell Telephone increases as high as 60 cents on residential lines and $1.40 on business lines will become effective in Newmarket on July 22. The residential increase in Aurora is the same but the top business phone rate increase is $1.65 in Aurora.

Rates increase as high as 35 cents for residential phones on the Roche's Point exchange and $1.15 for business phones. A complete schedule of the increases on the three exchanges is shown below.

The new rates become effective in accordance with an interim order of the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada issued last week, said C. E. Blossdale, district manager.

There will be no rate changes for subscribers to the Mount Albert Telephone Co. and the Stouffville and Bethesda Telephone Co. except in instances where subscribers to the latter use Bell Telephone switchboards.

The temporary rates will remain in effect until the board makes its final decision on the company's main application for increased rates.

Complete details on the new tariffs will be on file at the company's local business offices.

Increases in long distance rates will also go into effect on July 22. Increases vary from five cents to 25 cents depending on distance and class of call.

New and present monthly hand telephone rates for typical classes of service in Newmarket, Aurora and Roche's Point are shown in the following tables:

Grandmother's valor Saves mother, child From vicious sows

Victims of the attack of two sows, Mrs. Reginald Rainie and her three-year-old son, Jimmie, were able to leave York County hospital Wednesday afternoon after treatment for deep cuts. The mother and child had been saved from critical injury, possibly death, by the determination of Mrs. John Rainie, 54, who drove back the animals from the prostrate forms of the victims with a pitchfork.

The incident occurred on Saturday on a farm near Schomberg. Jimmie and his sister, Margaret, six, were walking across the farmyard near the pig pen when two sows, surrounded by piglets, rushed the children. The girl was able to reach a fence in safety but her brother was hurled to the ground.

The screams of the children brought their mother running with a pitchfork. She tried to drive the animals away from her child but in the struggle, lost her hold on the pitchfork. She threw her body across that of her child in one last effort to protect him. Her screams brought her mother-in-law running to the scene. Picking up the pitchfork, Mrs. Rainie drove the animals back until mother and child could reach safety. Laddie, the family dog, barked and snapped at the animals until they retreated.

Dr. M. K. Dillane, Schomberg, treated the mother and child for deep bites on arms and legs and then had them removed to York County hospital in Newmarket. Reginald Rainie, husband and father of the injured, was away from the farm at the time. He said it was not unusual for sows to attack when baby pigs are present but that this attack had been particularly vicious.

Dr. Dillane said that mother and child would have been killed if help had not arrived in time.

Soap Box entries close July 24 Ask district participation

With the Newmarket Legion "Soap Box Derby" only a few days away, on Wednesday, July 26, Tom Ewing, in charge of the event, asks that all entries be sent to him at Newmarket post office box 302 before July 24.

He emphasizes that the derby is open to district entries but that so far, none have been received from Mount Albert or Aurora. Twenty-five or 30 entries are anticipated.

A street dance and carnival are being held in conjunction with the event.

The derby is beginning to look like a real community affair as the list of officials grows. Chief Byron Burbridge will be starter and clerk of the course will be Wesley Brooks, town clerk. Joseph Dale, president of the Optimist Club, will be judge and Art Evans, past president of the Newmarket Lions, is patrol judge.

All officials and Legion volunteers are asked to be at the arena by 6 p.m. as well as all entries. A parade of starters is planned for 6.15 and the first heat will be run off on Main St. at 6.30.

Mayor Vale will present the prizes at the conclusion of the racing at the carnival booth on the Park Ave. parking lot.

Room for exhibitors Still at trade show

There is still room for two more exhibits in the trade fair to be held August 17, 18, and 19, in the Newmarket Arena in conjunction with the Newmarket Horticultural Society's annual gladiolus show. Merchants interested in showing are advised to get in touch with Eugene McCaffrey, chairman of the committee in charge of the exhibit.

BUY INHALATOR

Councillor Charles VanZant reported to council on Monday night that an inhalator had been purchased and firemen and police instructed in its use. The inhalator will be kept on the new fire truck.

Dr. J. G. Cook will be standing by at the first aid booth to look after minor spills.

Special features are being planned for the street dance and there are prizes as well as that it looks like a big evening.

In the evening, there was a program in the hall of moving pictures, Mary Law of Zephyr with her piano accordion, a barbershop quartet and solos. Prizes were presented to the member coming the farthest, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rutledge of Orillia; the member with the largest family present, Mr. Allan and Mrs. Dixon; the youngest one on the grounds, the wee son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson.

On Sunday morning many members of the class attended church service and Mr. Stewart and the first president, Mr. Chas. Scott, assisted the minister, Rev. Shapter, in the service. In his few remarks, Mr. Scott said that after all these years the class had disbanded but hoped that there would still be a new class of young men to take its place and carry on. Mr. Len Brown was the last president. The boys will long cherish pleasant memories of their happy times together, of their leader and Mrs. Stewart who was a grand help on many occasions.

Toronto - First Aluminum wire factory in Canada

Mama and her Aluminum kettle

Building the home for Tomorrow

1950 is the fiftieth anniversary of the Wear-Ever line in Canada. These aluminum cooking utensils were introduced here at the beginning of the century. Their popularity grew so rapidly that, by 1912, a new factory was needed to supply the demand. This was built in Toronto. It was the first plant in Canada to make aluminum articles — and this was only a dozen years after the first Canadian smelter had started making aluminum ingots at Shawinigan Falls.

Today Alcan has twelve plants, all of them engaged in the aluminum industry, while more than 1000 independent companies across Canada shape the metal into all sorts of useful forms — from kettles to freight cars.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

"Here is a love song dedicated to New York," said the blurb on the dust jacket of the book. The author, since the day he arrived, "has been openly, unashamedly, lasciviously, almost lewdly in love with New York City."

Aha, we thought, here is a tidy little romance, just the thing for a hot July day's reading, and forthwith, we settled down to the author's affair. And what a waste of time it was. If the author was in love with his city, then it was the first love of a youth for a bawd and compound of pretension.

The author was a newspaperman who had earned, heaven preserve us, a reputation for a humorist. His book was a collection of bar-room anecdotes about the near-great and fabulous that possessed the dreary similarity of a string of imitation pearls. What he had to tell was neither distinctive nor revealing; he told it in a manner completely devoid of literary ability.

We have no particular reason for sounding off against this unknown except the book sold for $2 and because we are getting rather fed up with these collections of anecdotes which pass as literature. The belief seems firmly fixed in the minds of these would-be raconteurs that all that is needed to make undying literature is the right name and a glamorous setting.

They are poor things alongside Elliot Paul's Linden on the Saugus Branch and his earlier The Last Time I Saw Paris which were concerned with people and not with their names. Have we become so gullible that we will accept anything, whether it is the endorsement of a beauty soap or a story associated with a Hollywood name, simply because the package looks nice? We hate to think so but there it is.

Well now, with a hot weather peevish off our minds, our thanks to Mr. Bob Martin for his pleasant hospitality and a visit to the jungle which flourished in his back-yard. Mr. Martin's two grandsons, Robert and Lindsay, are visiting him. Among other talents, they possess a gift for moulding plasticine into a variety of scenes.

When we looked in, they had just demolished a farm-yard and replaced it with a jungle scene in which a lush growth flowered about two bearded hunters, one of whom was casually beheading a snake over his tiffin. The jungle was crowded with elephants and one thing and another of the kind of animals you find in any jungle. No wonder their grandparent had trouble representing a too obvious pride in their accomplishment for the animals were remarkably well modelled.

Mr. Martin has a neat hand himself when it comes to wood working. He showed us a cosy shop in his garage where he turns out odds and ends of furniture.

Now we know why we didn't catch a fish worth keeping the other weekend. The reason is really quite simple: wrong bait. The advice has been free and frequent. "You should have, said the dentist, 'used blood suckers. They never fail.'"

"Aha," said the banker, "what you should have used was crawfish."

"Minnows," said the baker, "are the thing."

"You were still fishing, eh?" asked the paper salesman. "All wrong, should have been trolling."

We hesitate to mention worms which is what the man in the next boat, the fellow who caught a couple of beauties, was using. "Worms," he told us, "just plain worms."

Well, as the man said, you pay your money and you take your choice.

The Editorials:

Which do you prefer?

After a year or so of representations to the government, Bell Telephone has been granted interim rate increases. This is in sharp contrast to the Ontario Hydro Commission's recent increases to rural consumers whose only notice was a polite little note telling them their power would cost more. The Bell Telephone Co., a private firm, was required to cite chapter, line and verse of every aspect of their operation, and be subjected to a searching scrutiny of those opposed the increases. The hydro just went ahead and did it, and there is no alternative for the consumer but to pay it.

The Financial Post remarks: "The difference in the experience of these two public utilities indicates one of the major weaknesses of state enterprise, and also, of course, the impossibility of fair competition between the two if operating in the same field."

"To the private company, costs are always of paramount importance. To the concern owned and operated by the government they are an item which can be passed along easily to the consumer."

Favors 'satellite' municipalities

Toronto spokesmen have contended with some indignation that the suburbs have been throttling the city's natural expansion. They have argued that the only thing left to do to end this disgraceful injustice has been to amalgamate the suburbs. It is pleasant, therefore, to read that a committee housing, appointed by the civic advisory council, believes that the growth of satellite municipalities about great cities is a very welcome development and should be encouraged.

Specifically, the committee opposed Toronto's argument that it needed the wide open spaces of the suburbs for housing and suggested instead that Toronto turn its attention to putting to more efficient use large, run-down areas in the centre of the city. The committee admits to the need of some uniformity on housing so that best advantage may be taken of government assistance but suggests that this is better achieved by the formation of a metropolitan housing authority, not by placing the suburbs under the city's administration.

The committee's report is another piece of evidence against the current view that the way to cure the city's ills, brought about by its growth, is to make the city still larger. In a broader context, it is a refutation of the kind of thinking which confuses efficiency with uniformity and substitutes centralization for local administrations. There are real difficulties in the administration of public services in the Toronto area but they can be solved by inter-municipal action far more readily and without loss of local autonomy and flavor than by submitting the whole area to a central administration.

Nor will the injustice of increased levies be imposed upon the rest of York county if co-operation between municipalities is substituted for Toronto's present intention to assume a complete control over its suburbs.

We have a 'falls' too

Whatever your opinion of Major Lloyd Hill's sanity may be, there is no doubting the attraction of his foolhardiness for tourists. Several thousand of them spent their vacation pin money at the tourist shops in the Niagara district while waiting for Mr. Hill's plunge over the Falls. And it is worth remembering too that the Niagara Falls, while spectacular in its own way, never fully achieved its present attraction until people began to tight-rope their way across the gorge or plug themselves into kegs for a voyage over the crest.

We do not suggest that the Fahey Lake dam in any way compares with Niagara Falls and there is no Maid of the Mist nosing through the spray at its foot. But it is, in its fashion, a water fall and there is plenty of room in the park for the appropriate booths and souvenir counters. All we need is a Mr. Hill and an empty keg and Newmarket can be in business too.

As a matter of fact, we have put the issue to Mr. Slim Biggins, our pressman. Would he, we asked, like to make the trip? Fame and fortune would be his for the asking if the voyage were successful, and he would have the rather unusual privilege of printing the newspaper which carried the news of his gravity-defying feat. We have not, as yet, received an answer but it is plain he is wavering.

We had thought the dog days in the latter part of August would be ideal. There is nothing much doing and a trip over the dam at Fahey Lake would give us all a fresh interest. On second thought, we could engage one of the "Human Polar Bears" who have passed through here of late, and float him over without bothering with the barrel.

Councils and school costs

Considerable criticism is levelled from time to time at the system which requires municipal councils to levy taxes for school expenditures and yet deprives them of any voice in determining what those expenditures should be. The criticism has been voiced around the Stouffville municipal council table on more than one occasion, and more particularly in the last decade since school costs have mounted to unheard of levels. Costs in the local public school have gone upwards by leaps and bounds, and the municipal council which must levy the taxes for these expenditures is powerless to put on the brakes.

The complaint was levelled during recent sessions of York County Council, and similarly protested by the Association of Reeves and Mayors. A request that municipal councils should at least be permitted the right of appeal to an authoritative body such as the Ontario Municipal Board, when they believe educational budgets excessive, has gone by the boards apparently.

While the local municipal council in Stouffville favors a new high school here, it is not these capital expenditures which are the greatest burden on the taxpayer; it is the current school expenditures which form the heavy charge upon the home owners, and it is only reasonable to contend that it is desirable that councils should be in a position to at least appeal, if they so wish, against these current costs amounting to about one-third of the tax rate in most municipalities.

While this right of appeal in no way would reduce the managerial powers of school boards which they now enjoy it is possible that the knowledge that their estimate of current expenditures may be questioned would have a salutary effect on them.—Stouffville Tribune.

Editorial notes

Plans for a second annual trade exhibition in conjunction with the annual Horticultural Society gladiolus show in August appear fairly well advanced. There will be many more merchants showing their wares than at the initial exhibition, a fact which reflects the interest the businessmen have in the project. The show will last three days and will be held in the arena where there is more space than was available last year in the town hall.

Indicative of the growth of Newmarket and the added weight of municipal responsibility which councillors must now bear is the continuation of regular weekly council meetings through the summer months. Only a few years ago, councillors were able to shut up shop for July and August except for one meeting a month.

Members of council have been visiting sewage disposal plants and will soon meet with an engineer on the choice of a site for the proposed sewage disposal plant for Newmarket. Once embarked upon the project, council is showing a commendable zeal in carrying it through.

There is less evidence of zeal for the formation of a Holland River Conservation Authority among those responsible for hurrying that project along. There was a meeting of representatives of interested municipalities during the winter. After some discussion, the meeting adjourned because there weren't enough present for a quorum. There was to be a second meeting a few weeks later but it never came about. A few weeks ago, the project was revived with a query to representatives asking if they were still interested but nothing has developed since.

The Newmarket town council on Monday night received some brisk advice on weeds from the county inspector, Mr. Frank Marritt. Newmarket, said Mr. Marritt, is not exactly weed-free, and he suggested spraying with 2, 4-D as the more practical alternative to the town's usual custom of cutting weeds. It is to be hoped the town will follow his suggestions even though there would be an initial investment on the spray equipment of $125 or so. Newmarket has some lovely gardens; a municipal concern with the swift destruction of weeds would be greatly appreciated.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

The Era and Express cat reporter, Ginger, who is now on his holidays was inadvertently in the Niagara Falls district last weekend when Major Hill decided to go over the falls in a barrel. Our correspondent gives you a full report on a certain aspect of the event.

Nomewhere in Western Ontario at an undisclosed Great Lakes port—I have just returned from a scene of sadistic throngs of people. I, your favorite cat correspondent, personally, without fear or bodyguard saw what was going on at the edge of the cataract.

I saw thousands of sore feet, the backs of legs, people pushing, stepping on each other and fighting to see a barrel go over the falls. I didn't see it go over. There was nobody in it anyway. What's a barrel going over a falls anyway. Lot of nonsense.

That is about all I can tell you about it from where I sit which is in a very comfortable deck chair on a beautiful beach where zephyrs and beautiful girls play idly before the lapping waves.

Oh yes, I had a photographer with me at the scene but I sent him home when I saw all those thronging, inhuman people pushing and clawing. He has a wife and three kids, you know.

They say that if Mr. Hill goes in the barrel again he will get his reward. I don't know which reward they mean. There are two gangs who have peculiar interests and both are apt to give him his reward anytime from what I hear.

Someone on the street told me that Rocco Perry, Hamilton racketeer of the 20's, is behind one of the gangs. Funny what you hear in rumors.

"O I thought he was dead," I said.

"Why certainly not, he's been playing the piano inognito at the Jockey Club for years," said the informant.

Ray, boss, when I went on my holidays I forgot to tell you that I took a bottle of sun tan lotion out of your desk drawer. Hope you don't mind. Oh yes, and your cigaret lighter since mine won't work and that pair of sun glasses hanging on your typewriter.

It is amazing that on your holidays suitcases become more heavily loaded with trivia such as that. Always picking up things. One finds so many needs on holidays.

We stayed at a hotel last weekend and the management kindly left soap and towels for us to take on our journey. Couldn't refuse them. They had been left by somebody named Ritz something.

We also took along a copy of the New Testament which the people forgot who had been in the room before us. I think inside the cover it said it belonged to the Gibbons. If I find out which Gibbons, I'll return it to them.

I see by the papers that the parks board in Hamilton is getting estimates on the costs of bathing Queen Victoria.

One of the members of the board wondered what it would cost to "give the old lady a bath."

"She" is a bronze statue in Gore Park, downtown Hamilton.

The papers say "Pigeons have been using the landmark as a perch and the statue has also become discolored from the weather." A genteel way of saying something.

If I were a pigeon though, I would take such a statement as a slur against pigeonry. Besides if it were not for the pigeons people would never notice the old girl. They certainly brighten her up.

Leave her go unharmed, I say.

The Top Six Inches

The annual field day of the Ontario swine breeders was held at a local packing plant recently. In the morning a moving picture was shown of the pig's career from the farm to the packing plant. There were 14 sides of pork shown in the judging contest.

This group of breeders, with the assistance of government inspectors, have brought the pig from a fat, short farm scavenger animal to a scientifically bred and fed animal. The hogs are judged on size. This system tells the breeder just where his hog is out of balance. Good breeding is only the start. Feeding and sanitation must follow. Many well bred hogs do not make grade A because of wrong feeding.

After lunch the guest speaker, Mr. Connel, secretary of M.C.A. Kitchener, spoke on why we do what we do when we do it. An instructive panel discussion followed on hogs. Dr. McInnes from the veterinary college said that rhinitis, a disease of the nose of swine, was not to be feared as much as some farmers thought. It is the germ (a scientific name we did not get) was harmless until combined with the shipping fever germ. Rhinitis should always be fed wet feed. Shipping fever was a forerunner of rhinitis.

Rhinitis mostly affected young pigs. If there is an outbreak on your farm of rhinitis, isolate your breeding stock and clean up your pens and yards.

The question was asked: what the price of pork and coarse grains would be in the next ten months? Mr. Schell, Canada Packers, said the present high price of pork was because of the demand of Canadian beef in the U.S.A. The demand for beef in the States was because the population of cattle there had not increased in the same rate as the population. Poultry had increased at somewhat near the same rate. The demand for beef cattle for scientific training in the future might price beef too high for food.

To listen to the discussion and so many important things, the farmer should know and do with farm animals, and to know how little attention farmers pay to the health of their stock, was discouraging. The health of our nation depends on the health of our farm animals. The health of our farm animals depends on the health and fertility of our soil. The farm people have a most important part to play in our health program.

One very nice thing the managers of some of the departments had lunch with the farmers. We were next to a man whose business it was to grade the beef and sell it to the trade. The hardest job this man said he had was to sell beef from show ring breeders type cattle. This class of cattle had carried excess fat all their lives and made poor meat.

The question was asked about rail grading of beef. This man said to grade beef from grass fed, stall or grain fed young and old would become a real problem. It was very interesting to hear the trouble the packing plant takes to insure the consumer of the very best meat. The color of beef is hard to control in fact, they do not know why some beef will be light and some dark in color.

The day ended at a feeding or demonstration farm for poultry and hogs. These field days are very beneficial and educational to the farm people. Cheerio.

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The editor: On May 26, we wired to you seeking your co-operation in connection with the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund. At that time the Red River flood was at its height and many thousands of residents of the Red River Valley area had been driven from their homes.

The flood waters have now receded and business life of the community is back to normal. As a result of the generous help given by the weekly newspapers of Canada in support of the Fund, along with the assistance given by the press and radio of Canada and some thousands of local committees which have been giving their energetic help to the fund, we now have received contributions of more than $6,500,000 in cash and goods to the value of several hundreds of thousands of dollars, which goods have been directed to the Red Cross and Salvation Army for distribution to flood victims.

The generous contributions made to the fund will enable us to carry out our objective of fully compensating flood victims for loss of furniture, home furnishings and personal belongings destroyed or damaged by the flood waters. Approximately 1,000,000 persons have contributed to the fund. These contributions have ranged from 25 cents up to $360,000 received from the Line Elevator Companies and the grain trade.

The Manitoba Flood Relief Committee brought the campaign to a close on July 15. In ending the campaign the committee and the flood victims whose homes will be restored by the fund wish to express to the Newmarket Era and Express deep appreciation for all that you have done in enabling the fund to reach its objective. They also ask that through your columns they be permitted to convey their heartfelt thanks to the citizens of your district who have contributed so generously and to those who have worked so diligently in local efforts on behalf of the fund.

We feel that the contributors to the fund will be interested in knowing that the raising of the fund was accomplished entirely with voluntary help. As a result of all connected with the fund having contributed their time and efforts, the cost of raising this large sum of money will be less than one-half of one percent of the amount collected. We believe that this constitutes a low cost record in raising of such a large fund.

We would appreciate it if, through your columns you request that any local committees operating on behalf of the fund forward any contributions on hand as soon as possible after the closing date of the campaign.

Again thanking you for your generous help.
Sincerely yours,
Cecil Lamont,
Honorary National Organizer,
Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.
Editor's note: Contributions will be forwarded directly to the fund by any one of the Newmarket banks.

The editor: Your doughty and appropriately militant "Back Concession" columnist says so many forthright things about the burgeoning efforts of the organized farmers generally — and particularly the various "federations" at the county, provincial and national levels — it would seem a bit like "bringing coal to Newcastle" for this primary producer to eulogize your "Top Six Inches" writer. Nevertheless, I desire to do so, and to express the thought that we need more farm advocates of Back Concession's efficiency and timbre, clear across the Dominion.

It is indeed commonly held (and not only along the farm production front) that "the farmers are not receiving their just share of the consumer's dollar." However, the specific point which has impelled this little letter runs thus: "This group" (around 30 to 35 percent of the people in Canada engaged in agriculture production) "wants and expects more returns for its services, while the rest of the people expect and want lower food prices."

To try and satisfy both groups is the task the federation has taken on. My interest in the announced publicity and advertising campaign of the organized dairy farmers, aimed at telling the 'Story of Butter' and the rest of the dairy products, to our town and city customers seems to centre on the timeliness and desirability not only of spotlighting the farmer's production costs but also of winning a better level of understanding between primary producer and final consumer, through making it crystal clear that farm workers share in that urban food dollar; that, right down the line and covering all farm commodities—food and fibre—these off-the-farm Canadians, take an estimated 48 cent 'bite' out of that urban food dollar; and that what actually accrues to primary producer pocket books, is the remaining slice of that food pie, namely 52 cents!

I confess that I have not the precise Canadian figures; but the above are the official data covering the distribution of the "urban food dollar" in the United States. I see no reason for doubting that the ratio is valid in the Canadian scene.

The Mutual Life of Canada has released its Honors List recognizing two members of its Brampton Branch for outstanding service to their communities in the club year recently closed. Messrs. N. W. Greensides, Kettleby, and F. Chantler, C.L.U., Newmarket, have again qualified as members of the Leaders' Century Club.

Qualification for club membership requires not only the underwriting of a large volume of protection, but, more important, the writing from year to year of "quality business", that is, life insurance that is continued in force. These two factors, combined with a high personal standard of confidential service to policyholders, earn this recognition for Mutual Life representatives.

NEW TELEPHONE RATES

The Board of Transport Commissioners has ordered our first general rate increase in 23 years
EFFECTIVE JULY 22, 1950

In accordance with an interim order of The Board of Transport Commissioners, telephone rates will be increased on July 22nd. These rates will apply until the Board makes a final decision on the application for higher rates that we made last October.

No one, of course, wants to pay higher prices for anything. Though our costs have been going up faster than our revenues for some time, we delayed applying for increases until it was clearly evident we could not continue to operate satisfactorily without higher rates.

Most things you buy and the things we buy too, have gone up in price in recent years, and nearly all of them more than the revenue increase we asked for. The temporary rates now ordered by the Board give us only part of the revenue we require. If we are to continue towards our goal of providing service to all who want it, when and where they want it, we must receive the balance of the increase for which we applied.

Although the cost of telephone service has finally gone up, when you think about it, the value of telephone service has gone up even more. In terms of convenience, security and friendly contacts, a telephone is worth far more than it costs!

HOW TO FIND YOUR NEW RATE

Look up your exchange area in TABLE "A". Its rate group appears beside it. Below, under the corresponding rate group column in TABLE "B", you will find the rates for the most widely used classes of service. If you need any information about other rates, please call our business office.

An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

We are dishing "beef" this week because it is only by repeated reminders that we can hope to remedy civic faults. We cure our mortal ills with careful attention and respect for our weakness. There is only one way to cure civic ills and that is to adopt the same procedure.

In the spring there was a burst of enthusiasm for the beautification of our town. Every member of council tossed a dollar bill into the prize pot to keep it boiling as a reward for the best garden in three different categories. Only two residents entered the contest so it had to be cancelled. The gardens are just as lovely as they would have been had they been in competition but the added interest that such a contest stirs up in a community was lost. Are the residents to blame or was the presentation of the idea wrong?

Care of Cenotaph
Council appointed a parks committee. To date the only evidence that this committee is functioning is the fact that the grass has been cut at the cenotaph and at Victoria park. Saturday, with hundreds of tourists rolling through Aurora, the grounds around the cenotaph presented a sorry sight. Newspapers and large pieces of old wrapping paper rolled over the burned out lawn surrounding the light. Tall grass, weeds, mustard and thistle were rank in the windbreak. It had the appearance of a man who has only shaved one side of his face.

We wrote of this before but it still will bear repeating: it would be a worthwhile venture if the Horticultural Society would adopt the cenotaph. Probably it is because it is off the beaten path of many of the members that the pathetic appearance of our memorial has not impressed itself on them.

Trash Cans
Another plea made in this column some weeks ago was for trash baskets on Yonge St. If Toronto has found it beneficial to place hundreds of these containers throughout the city, there must be some merit in the idea. Our main street at times looks as though a sudden wind had caught the garbage truck on its way through town with a load of loose papers.

Heaved Sidewalk
There is a sidewalk on Kennedy St. with a series of cement steps heaved by frost during the past umpteen years until only a mountain goat could navigate them with any certainty of making the top of the hill without a major mishap. Some day someone is going to break a leg on this hill and then the town will face a charge of negligence.

We live in one of the finest small towns in Ontario but its socks are around its ankles. The only way we can keep them pulled up is to cure the apparent habit of following the line of least resistance and the persistent curse of procrastination.

SPORTS DAY

Queensville is having its third annual sports day at the Queensville park on Saturday, Aug. 5, when there will be a program of races, a softball tournament, games and carnival attractions.

In the evening there will be a concert and dancing. Additionally, there will be a series of special events during the afternoon and evening.

Harry N. Toombs is president of the sports day organization and he is assisted by vice president Fred K. Dew and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Chas. Milsted.

Pipes test 100 percent Expect start on floor now

"Not one leak." That's the Canadian Ice Machinery Company report on the test conducted last Friday on the brine pipes at the Newmarket arena. The ice company engineer was quite pleased with this fact as usually there are at least one or two leaks after the first winter's operation.

Howard Newton, Morris Crowder and Bill Morrill of the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Co. and the large band of assistants who completed the welding job at their contribution towards artificial ice, can puff out their chests at this showing.

With the pipes tested, it is expected the Garla Flooring and Supply Co. will move in this week or early next to start laying cement. The complete floor job, including polishing, is estimated to take four days. Following this, a four weeks' setting period is required before the floor can be used.

Rink manager Percy Hutchinson has completed most of the inside paint work as well as minor repairs and the arena is looking spic and span for summer or winter activity.

Township prepares For 100th birthday

Representatives of Newmarket and Aurora councils will meet with township officials and representatives of township organizations tonight to plan township centenary celebrations.

The first reeve of Whitechurch was Joseph Hartman, and his council was composed of T. Pearson, J. Macklin, E. Wideman and G. Playter. Three reeves of the township have held the office of Warden of York County, latest being Earl Toole. The Township of Whitechurch was first laid out in 1800 by John Stegmann, surveyor in Upper Canada, but it was not until 1850 that the first council was constituted as we know it today.

OBITUARY John Moynihan

A long time resident of Aurora, John Moynihan passed away on Tuesday. Mr. Moynihan was a dairy farmer until he retired four years ago and purchased a home at Burlington where he has resided for the past year. He was a member of the Anglican church. He is survived by his wife, Louie Long; a daughter, Mrs. James Keen; and three brothers, Walter, Thomas and Dr. William Moynihan, all of Toronto. A son predeceased him seven months ago.

WINS LYONS CUP

The rink captained by Mrs. (Dr.) Claridge, Tottenham, won the Ella Lyons trophy at the annual tournament held at the Newmarket Bowling Greens on Thursday, July 13, with a score of 44 points. Last year Mrs. (Dr.) Boyd's Toronto rink won the cup.

Twenty rinks coming from Barrie, Richmond Hill, Aurora, Tottenham, Agincourt, Stouffville, Lawrence Park, Toronto and Newmarket competed in the tournament.

Theft case cleaned up Hour after reported

Fast and effective police action was demonstrated in the village of Sutton last weekend when the report of a break and entry, and theft was followed by an arrest and confession within the hour.

Some time during Sunday night, a burglar entered Flint's Garage, Sutton, through an open back window and made off with $11 in cash. At 10 a.m. Monday morning the theft was reported to the Sutton police and Chief Constable Stan James made a quick investigation.

By 11 o'clock a juvenile resident of Sutton was arrested, the theft admitted and the money returned to the garage. Charges were laid against the boy and he will appear in the juvenile court in Toronto.

Special Farm Forum Meeting on prices July 31

A special Farm Forum meeting of Ontario Forums is being called for July 31 at the request of the Bruce and Oxford County Farm Forum committees. This meeting is being called to study the feed grain situation as it affects both the eastern feeder and the western producer.

The Forum people are anxious to know all they can about coarse grain marketing in order to properly analyze the situation. They are wondering if blaming the local feed dealer for the high cost of feed grain is in the same category as blaming the farmer for the price of packaged bacon on the butcher shop shelves.

Farmers of Ontario and Manitoba particularly want to know all costs between the 52.2 cents per bushel initial price for No. 1 feed oats paid to the farmer at Souris, Man., and what is asked of the Ontario feeder about $1.20 per bushel. Local feed dealers and co-operatives are keenly interested as well and will be joining with forum groups to study other situations as well. Local newspapers and radio stations are co-operating by discussing feed grain costs in editorials and newscasts respectively.

Boyd rendered a lovely solo and Pine Orchard choir gave a selection. Harold Moddle also assisted in the service.

Miss Sadie McQueen of Stayner spent a few days last week at the Williams' home, also calling on old friends.

Rev. and Mrs. McMath, also Miss Buckan, Newmarket, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. Earl Toole. Guests also for tea were Mr. Rehail and daughter, Betty, Toronto.

The Dealer

By HOWARD MORTON

Many meanings might be given for the term "Dealer." It might be the person who distributes the cards in a card game. It might be a member of a political group in the United States (remember the New Dealers) or it might have the meaning that Webster gives it: "One who deals; one who has to do or has concern with others; a trader or merchant." Personally I like the one which says trader.

Last week a farmer came in who had a big trucking job to do. Unfortunately his money was all tied up in a mortgage. Well I had the G.M.C. truck he needed for the job and I also had a friend who was looking for an investment just like this mortgage so I became a trader. The farmer got the truck; my friend got the mortgage; and my firm got the money.

And through 15 years of business it has always been like that around our places of business. I cannot recall anyone ever offering us anything in trade, which we considered of trading value, and having it refused.

Before the war we made deals and accepted in trade a vast variety of commodities. I remember, for instance, a little blood, a piano, a building lot, 300 bags of potatoes, a quantity of dry lumber, a hunting rifle, etc., etc.

Jo Anne wants second chance

Jo Anne, 11, is pleading for another chance to go to summer camp.

The situation is this: two years ago all arrangements had been made (including sewing name tags on dozens of articles of clothing and bedding) to send Jo Anne to a summer camp for two weeks while her parents planned to take a quiet cruise. At the last minute Jo Anne protested and wouldn't be shipped away to camp and her parents missed their boat.

Last year, the family was on speaking terms again (despite the ever present reminder of the previous summer in the form of name tags, which were still firmly attached to dozens of articles of clothing and bedding) and planned to spend their holidays together on a motor trip.

This year was to be a stay-at-home one except for a few short visits. It's easier to manage at home with a new baby, a very recent addition to the family, who voices his opinion in favor of regular routine.

However, Jo Anne is pleading for another chance to go to summer camp. All her friends are going to camp—or, at least, they are going some place so they'll be gone and she'll have no one to play with—nothing to do. Poor, poor Jo Anne!

Under the circumstances—since there are no boats to miss or schedules to confuse in event Jo Anne changes her mind this year, it seems an ideal time to give her another chance. After all two years makes quite a difference in young lives. Besides, the camp idea is hers this year, her parents aren't trying to park her some place while they have a carefree holiday.

It's not probable that she will change her mind about wanting to go because nothing of special interest is happening at home. Nothing could have dragged her from home before the baby arrived—but it did and it's a boy and that's that! (Anyways, Jo Anne can sew on her own name tags this year.)

Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

"Nine hundred lives lost in action". That is the title given to a radio program we heard this week dealing with the deaths of Canadians through drowning each year. Nine hundred, that is a formidable number of wasted lives and it is even more tragic when we realize that the majority of these accidents could have been prevented by the exercising of the minimum water safety requirements.

Every day the newspapers and radio news bulletins carry accounts of this wanton disregard for human life. Over the weekend, Elmhurst Beach, Lake Simcoe, was the scene of such a tragic occurrence when a small boy was the victim of a drowning accident. According to the newspaper account, the child was playing in shallow water with many other youngsters, in full sight of adults on the shore.

You may ask how such a thing could happen under those circumstances, but those who are familiar with water safety practices are all too aware of the carelessness towards danger which most adults and children show. It's as if they believed that they led charmed lives. They go blithely about their business thinking, "That couldn't happen to me or my children". But it could and does as the great number of drowning accidents grimly verifies.

In the case of the Lake Simcoe weekend accident, adults realized too late the situation and then with all their efforts at artificial respiration and rushing emergency equipment to the scene, a child's life was lost. There was the heart rendering sight of parents bereaved of their little boy. No amount of precautions would be too great to prevent such an accident.

Everywhere one goes where children are swimming one sees parents allowing the young ones in the water without supervision. Tubes and other floating aids are great fun for those who can swim and handle themselves competently in the water, but they are a menace to the young child and weak swimmer who becomes panicky when carried out beyond his depth. Even in shallow water a child can be drowned when one of those tubes becomes inverted and he is caught in it and kept afloat, but head down.

Too many of our swimming beaches have no safety equipment on them. Some of them do not even have a good stout rope and when they do, there is frequently no one present who knows how to toss a life line or any life saving techniques.

The Canadian Red Cross issues pamphlets on water safety rules which they distribute to interested persons, free of charge. A letter to the Toronto office will obtain the information for you, but as in most sports, the exercise of some common sense would cut the accident toll.

It is only logical to see that children are supervised while in swimming; to wait until one's meal is digested before entering the water; to refrain from acrobatics in boats and if the boat does capsize to remain with it until rescue comes rather than striking out for the shore... it is farther away than you think.

It is one of our fondest dreams that Newmarket will have a swimming pool where such instruction would be given to all the town's children. Only when people have the opportunity for constant swimming practice, such as could be made available when there is a town pool, can you hope to develop strong, competent swimmers. Then they have the chance to develop their ability. When a place as small as Thornhill can have a swimming pool we wonder where that famous Newmarket spirit is which made the arena possible.

Milk is well-protected by Aluminum

An Inside Story

1. The nourishing glass of milk from Grandma is the happy ending to this story. It started when Nature put aluminum in the earth itself. That is why this important mineral is right in the milk we drink.

2. And Nature gave aluminum qualities that make it ideal in contact with food. Many milk pails... many parts of modern milking machines are made of aluminum.

3. From farm to dairy... from country to city... rich, wholesome Canadian milk is being increasingly carried in aluminum containers to reach you fresh and pure.

4. And to cap it all, many bottles of milk are protection-sealed with shining aluminum foil tops. Aluminum assures cleanliness for this most sensitive of all foods.

No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of perfectly protected flavour, quality and purity.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD.

Hints to the Housewife!

Some natural minerals in foods and water leave a dark deposit on cooking utensils. These deposits are harmless and are easily removed by standard cleaners or steel wool and soap.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

WHAT A DAY

Of late, the hours between 6 and 8 on Tuesday mornings have been a cross between a circus, a tornado and a mad house in our usually quiet home.

If I am here after Archie leaves it's not so bad, but when we leave together the cats sense something amiss and behave or misbehave accordingly. I felt exactly like a centipede—maybe that's an overstatement, for I don't exactly know what a centipede does feel like, not being intimate with one—nor caring to be. But imagination can do a lot and when six cats, each boasting four legs, insist on weaving in a sort of grand chain between the two feet I manage to get along with, there is bound to be a "mew mew here and a mew mew there" as paws get stepped on and I wildly clutch the empty air as I try to retain my balance.

However at last the man of the house and I managed to escape and I was conveyed via car, to Mrs. G. McClure's where she and I joined Mrs. Glover and Mrs. Glover took us all to the Bogart-town school house where we were to meet the bus. Safely aboard, thanks to the united efforts of the driver and Mr. Hines, we rolled off towards Guelph.

As we travelled with a delightful feeling of a day of enjoyment ahead, I gave a small guess as to what small mishap might occur for I have never been on a motor boat that didn't refuse to work and nearly all my bus rides have something to distinguish them. One time going to Guelph the bus just refused to carry us any farther and we had to be transferred to another. Then, instead of heading for home we went some miles in another direction. This time we went a few miles out of our way, which was all to the good as we saw more of the country and everyone was enjoying the drive—thanks to a driver who drove and didn't tear along with no regard to our feelings.

Arriving at O.A.C., we were told it might be better to dine and then hear lectures or tour the grounds or do as we pleased. So to the dining hall we went, along with some 160 other guests of the college to enjoy such generous hospitality that we were almost incapacitated for further efforts. Roast pork perfectly cooked, potatoes with brown gravy, carrots, bread and butter and to top off, strawberry short cake with whipped cream, tea and milk.

Mrs. G. McClure, Mrs. Ewart and I decided to go to memorial hall for the sing song and talks on "dress" and "our treasures in books". So there we went to find the hall filled with sing songers who were certainly having a glorious time, accompanied by Mr. Kidd at the organ and Mrs. Kidd at the piano and conducted by Rev. G. Young. Mr. Young was an accomplished leader and the delight of that piano and organ combination will linger long in our memories.

Then came "what shall I wear?" This was answered by a speaker and several models, who showed how much can be made of one well chosen suit or dress by a judicious use of different accessories. It was quite fascinating to watch the transformation as hat, gloves, shoes and bag were changed to suit conditions and occasion.

Professor Carpenter appeared on the scene to lead us into the realms of bookland. To a book lover this was the high spot of the day. Mr. Carpenter in choosing said he tried to fit the holiday mood, so he gave us humor, Canadian humor. He said that many people say there is no such thing but I am sure that if there were any doubters in his audience that afternoon, they were converts by the time he finished.

He gave us "How Sam Slick Sells His Products" by Haliburton. We heard Johnny Corneau by Drummond and Stephen Leacock as he tried to bank his first earnings. Susannah Moody's "Leaving the North Woods", George Lanigan's Fables, Mary Lowry Ross' "Be Kind to Toronto", "Tourist Time" by Scott. Samuel Marchbank's on "Reading" and there was one other I lost. Altogether it was a book lover's feast of good things and if anyone wants to laugh his head off, be sure to get that one of Leacock's.

After that we visited the rose gardens and here we steeped ourselves in color and perfume. Going to the museum we were talking to some other guests of the college and one of the party wore a very beautiful brooch—it looked like amethysts and brilliants but when Mrs. McClure exclaimed over its beauty, she told us the stones were rhinestones from Czechoslovakia and the brooch was made by the daughter of one of the party. I have a bandeau of rhinestones but I never knew they came from Czechoslovakia—live and learn.

We enjoyed the museum with its birds and beasts and fruit and reptiles. I don't know whether I'd know a crocodile from an alligator or not, even now, and I doubt if, meeting them in the flesh, I'd stay long enough to try and remember the differences.

But the time was going and we had to hasten to join our bus and on the way home everyone agreed that it was the end of a perfect day—Jean Williams' sandwiches were perfect anyway!

THE HOMEMAKERS

Ambrosia at picnic table

Picnic meals work magic on even delicate appetites. Any food seems to taste better when eaten in the open air; good food becomes ambrosia when soft breezes blow across the table.

The picnic spot may be some shady corner in the back yard, a well-known location by the lake or a newly discovered hilltop with a view. But it is the content of the picnic basket which is uppermost in the minds of most homemakers.

Simplicity of both food and service should be the keynote. There is no need for complicated menus or extra garnishes or fine china. The only problem is to provide enough food for second or even third helpings.

For those who are looking for a good sandwich spread, here is a substantial one for hearty appetites.

CHEESE SANDWICH SPREAD

1 lb. cheese, grated (4 cups)

4 tsp. minced onion

1/2 tsp. salt

Dash of cayenne pepper

2 hard boiled eggs, chopped

2 tsp. butter

2 tsp. sugar

2 tsp. flour

1/2 cup vinegar

1 cup milk

Add the grated cheese, onion, salt and cayenne pepper to the chopped eggs. Melt the butter in a double boiler; add sugar and flour, blending well. Add the vinegar and milk, while stirring, and cook over hot water until thickened. Combine with the cheese mixture and store in a cool place. Yield: 3 cups.

If the picnic is in the back yard or if transportation is by car the "one hot-dish" which is recommended for every meal may be taken from the oven at the last minute, wrapped in newspapers to keep in the heat and still be hot when served an hour later.

TUNA, NOODLE MUSHROOM CASSEROLE

1/2 package broad noodles (8 oz.)

1 can tuna fish (7 oz.)

1/2 cup grated medium cheddar cheese

1 can mushroom soup (10 oz.)

1/2 cup grated medium cheddar cheese

Cook noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, about 15 min. Drain and rinse in cold water. Drain contents of can of tuna

Quite a hunk of gossip to boil down for quick reading. Congrats to commence with to recreation commission which has appointed Frank Hollingshead director for summer months. Frank is a good lad around the kids and plans to keep them busy. Chairman Lorne Paynter announced appointment Friday.

Schomberg Lions plan Two 'softball nights'

The Schomberg Lions club is making arrangements to have two good nights of baseball in the near future. The dates are to be announced later.

Two of the top ranking ladies' teams from the Sunnyside league will be up for exhibition baseball. On another occasion Tip Tops, featuring Charlie Justice, world's champion fastball pitcher, and another team from New Beach will appear. An evening of fun is promised by the Lions who ask everyone to watch carefully for the dates.

The committee in charge is making arrangements well ahead of time. The show will go on under the flood lights at the Schomberg ball diamonds.

LADIES TAKE 10-3 WIN OFF STRANSMEN'S

Barrie Stransmen had no liking for left-handed pitching at the Park Thursday. Newmarket ladies got back into a winning stride with a 10-3 triumph over the visitors. Ann Mulder, Frank Courtney's southpaw flinger, doled out five hits and kept these well scattered to record her second win of the season. The win kept the locals on the top perch in the hot Barrie and District Softball League race.

Ann Mulder had her shut-out going until the fifth — might have kept it going longer but for a walk and a pair of errors which gave Barrie a run. In the sixth, it was two more tallies on two third-base errors and a hit by Doris Hickling into centre field.

Our gals poked out 12 hits. They didn't go into wholesale production of runs, but scored in every inning—just enough to keep it interesting. Those even dozen bingles were mostly confined to one-base knocks.

Phil McInnis bobbed up with a double in the fourth and Edna McGrath a triple in the sixth, the latter scoring a pair of tallies. Mary Ellen McInnis led our forces in the hit department with three, finally proving she hadn't lost the art of dropping-it-down and beating-it-out in the sixth. Phil McInnis, Lois Manning, Jackie Moore and Edna McGrath recorded two hits each, Mona Dean one.

Wednesday night at Barrie, our gals dropped their fourth game of the season, losing an 8-5 decision to Valley's. A three-run rally in the last of the sixth swung the decision to the winners. Arlene Moore allowed only five hits, while our gals had six off Dot Miller. Pauline Bovair led our hit parade with two.

Ditch Diggers win 13-12 In 'best game' with Hart's

Town "Ditch Diggers" and Hart Mfg. Company had the Aurora town league fans in an uproar last week as they dished up "the best game of the season". Towners had to use a two-run rally in the first of the seventh to snatch a 13-12 win over Harts.

Town's early lead, built up to a 10-3 crescendo in fourth, disappeared as Harts made their bid, chasing over juicy eight runs in the fourth. Both teams tacked on a run in the sixth, leaving Harts a run-advantage to hold in the seventh.

It wasn't enough as Towners hauled it down, gained a run advantage and hung in there. Alex Campbell went the route for Harts, Bill Mundell and Mickey Sutton shared the Town victory.

Town line-up: B. Kester, H. Stephenson, J. Jemmett, W. Mundell, G. Dawson, B. Turan, M. Sutton, P. Knowles, S. Romaniuk; Harts: W. McGee, A. Campbell, C. Evans, D. Richardson, A. Wood, P. McGuire, E. Aylett, D. Hadath, D. Hamilton.

Boy, did we get a blast! And rightly so. Reported Newmarket senior ladies' three games in front in Barrie and district. It's only one—Valley's breathing down the back of their necks, one game to the rear. Must have been wishful thinking. Incidentally, Skipper Courtney has our flock entered in P.W.S.U. playdowns. This may be its year, pitching talent greater, infield and outfield stronger.

No mom, you cannot put an outfielder in the baby carriage and enter it in Legion soap box derby, July 26. Rules is rules, says Tom Ewing. Besides, quite a squad of eagle-eye judges on the job. Police Chief Byron Burbridge is official starter, town clerk Wesley Brooks, clerk of the course, Joe Dales, judge-in-chief, Art Evans (Lions club), patrol judge, Doc Cock, in charge of first aid.

Had a lot more in the pot this week, but editor John will cut us off about here—have to keep it simmering until next week. Mostly about you guys—it'll keep.

Finish up with a query for Joe Dales. "Who won the bag of chop at the Optimist's picnic?" Optie's must have all had a helping if we can believe that Kes-

HASKETT AT IT AGAIN

Calls Mount to win Lake Simcoe league

By GEORGE HASKETT

If you get down to basic statistics, there are two kinds of pipples: those hurling challenges and those accepting.

Quite naturally, in the sport-scribing racket, have to accept quite a few and hurl them back with more ginger than they arrive. Here's an example:

Some time back, ran across a chap who right up and smacks us down. "Say Haskett," he says, "about time you were telling us who'll win the Simcoe crown this year." Of course about the only chap who'd wish this problem on us is a fugitive from this part of the county. Need we go further? It was Murray Roberts.

Robbie continued: "You picked 'em last year — wrong of course—have a go at it again—and do better. Where do you put Mount this year?"

These orchids didn't faze us. We're ready to try again. Gave the early returns a close scrutiny—pause—called Willow Beach to win. Tore that script up when Mount pasted them 6-1. Had a few butts in that script anyhow, Willow Beach would win if Cec McNeill could stand up—or didn't drop a block of ice on his toe.

Cecil carries the pitching burden almost singlehandedly for the Beachers. Then too, Beach lost Donnie Cameron, as good a second sacker as the league boasts. So they were out. Well we got to thinking: why not Pine Orchard? They're going well this year. But then, they did the same last year only to fade in the stretch. So we want somebody strong in the stretch. Then Zephyr Blues looked most likely to succeed, liable to get going and pop over all opposition. Just can't count on those Blues though. So two more scripts were consigned to the ashcan.

So we say to ourselves, why not call Mount Albert to win and give 'em the biggest hex of their lives? So that's what we're doing — going out on a limb — snap, crackle, pop. Mount to win again. And why? Ken "Red" Mitchell still the bread-

AURORA TRIMS NEWMARKET NET TEAMS

Leave it to Newmarket and Aurora to provide the hottest competition in any sport—especially when they are battling for top place. Such was the case as Newmarket tennis squad visited Aurora last week with top place in the North York Tennis League at stake. They went in to the contest tied, two wins and no losses. Aurora emerged at the top with its victory string intact defeating Newmarket 5 games to 3.

Results with Aurora players named first were: ladies' doubles: Ruth Corner and Connie Willis won over Joyce Bothwell and Joan Peppiatt 6-1, 6-2; Betty Boulding and Mae Gerrow carried Helen Coveney and Lynne Hunter to three sets before losing out 6-5, 2-6, 3-6.

Men's doubles: Keith Nisbet, and Charles Seath lost to Keith Davis and Bob Yates in straight sets 3-6, 3-6; Frank Wims and Pat Davies required three sets to defeat Charlie Lee and Bob Canning 2-6, 6-5, 6-1.

Mixed doubles: Ruth Corner and Frank Wims won in straight sets from Lynne Hunter and Charlie Lee 6-1, 6-1; Betty Boulding and Keith Nisbet were de-winner in the circuit. When Mitch is on, he's hard to beat—and his battery mate, Ross Draper, infield and outfield, are as good as last season if not better.

So you want to hear more? Pine Orchard to finish second, Willow Beach third, Zephyr fourth, Keswick fifth, Hope sixth. Mount and Zephyr to scrap for the Stan. Cook jug. Out of the play-off whirl, Vandy and Queensville. Can't go wrong on that latter call, so help me.

ENTER THREE TEAMS
Tom Dickson, Aurora's busy recreation director, advises Aurora has three entries in the Ontario Baseball Association play-downs: junior B, midget and peewee sections.

As no league play is available for Aurora's junior baseball entry in the O.B.A., Ron Simmons in charge of the team is anxiously scanning the horizon for opposition in order to round the team into shape. Any district teams wanting a little action on the ball field via exhibition games are asked to contact Ronnie at 4153, Aurora. How about Newmarket old-timers? Are they ready for their annual game?

Garden graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Canadian

Lilies are found in too few home gardens. This is due to the mistaken idea that they are difficult to grow. Yet many species will thrive with ordinary care. There are lilies suitable for every condition, such as dense shade, sun, wet or dry areas, sweet or acid soil, or even pure sand.

Lilies do need special care, however, during the hot, dry spells of summer. The soil in which they grow should be kept cool and slightly moist. If the lily roots are shaded by the foliage of other plants growing nearby, or if they have a ground cover growing over them it may prove to be enough protection. When the lilies stand by themselves in the full sun, then the soil about them should be well mulched. Leafmould, sawdust, grass clippings, can all be used. Most lilies like to lift up their tall spikes to the sun, yet they demand a cool, moist, root-run at all times.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, when cutting lilies for indoor use leave at least half of each stem and its foliage to manufacture food so that the bulb will bloom again next year.

Except from lilies whose seeds you wish to save, all faded flower heads should be removed. If cut back just as the blooms begin to fade, many lilies produce blooms again later in the season.

As a rule, when lilies are once planted, they can be left undisturbed for from three to five years, according to how crowded they become. In lifting bulbs for division it is best to do so after the tops die down naturally, following blooming.

As shown in the Garden-Graph, the new bulbs that have developed about the original one can easily be pulled away and should immediately be replanted before they dry out.

NOW OR NEVER GAME FACES SODBUSTERS

Schomberg "Sodbusters," at present trying to assume the role of giant killers in the current semi-final series in the Peel-York softball league, find themselves one game down and needing a win to stay in. The opening tussle in the best two out of three billed for Schomberg Friday was washed out. Monday King City, year long group leaders, came in and with superior hitting power, went home with a 10-6 win.

"That," says manager Albert "Pike" Cabil, "puts the Sodbusters definitely on the spot. They must win tonight (the second game) at King or pack up their equipment for this year." The reason for Monday's loss was Jerry Atcheson. Jerry applied the crusher to Schomberg hopes, lining his swing just right to meet Doug Brown's pitches for two towering home run smashes. Clark Archibald served up a neat pitching performance for the winners, keeping the mild hitting Sodbusters fairly well in check. Only twice did the Sodbusters hitch onto a scoring combo, first in the third and again in the sixth, then it was they bunched their hits for three runs on each occasion.

In the other semi-final bracket, Woodbridge and Nobleton are all even at a game each. The decider goes tomorrow night (Friday) under the lights at Schomberg park.

Aurora 'Diggers' humble Merchants in ditch 28-12

Town "Ditch Diggers" climbed out of their trenches long enough Monday in the Aurora town league softball to give the Merchants a good hiding 28-12. For the victors, Harold Stephenson, Earl MacDonald and Jimmie Jemmett had themselves a field night off Andy Closs' pitching. Andy Closs, Howie Patrick and Cliff Chapman were the muscle men for the Merchants. Mickey Sutton turned in a creditable mound performance for the Towners.

Town: P. Knowles, B. Turan, W. Mundell, J. Jemmett, B. Kester, E. MacDonald, H. Stephenson, S. Romanovich, M. Sutton. Merchants: F. Caruso, D. Holman, B. Cook, A. Closs, K. Kincaid, D. Watson, H. Patrick, M. Yake, C. Chapman.

Hoffman factory loop Opens play this week

The three-team Hoffman factory softball league will spring into action this week. Teams in the league are Spitfires, Dukes and Ramblers. Ivan Ruddock is captain of the Spitfires, Bob Benville of the Dukes and Vic Langford of the Ramblers. Most games are scheduled for Wednesday evenings at the Hoffman diamond. The league opener matches Spitfires and Dukes and the next week Ramblers and Spitfires clash. The league is conducted under the sponsorship of the Hoffman Recreation Committee.

Zany ball at Aurora In battle for 4th berth

From the way Aurora and Woodbridge conducted their softball chores Tuesday in Aurora one would have been led to believe the championship of Gum Swamp was on the line. Actually, fourth and possibly the last play-off berth in the North York Softball League was the prize.

The teams put some of the danglest softball seen up this away in a long time. It was no picnic for either pitcher, "Red" Castle for Aurora nor Bill Prasky for the Bridgers. Neither did Coach Charlie VanZant or Manager Tom Dickson, who worried themselves ten years nearer the grave, have any fun.

The tally book showed Woodbridge won a 15-11 decision. Digging deeper you'll find both teams with 11 hits. Hang on, there's more to come. Aurora was given eight errors—a lenient scoring mathematician at that. Woodbridge had half as many.

Such goings on as a home-run on a walk was a matter of course rather than something extraordinary. Anyhow, the fans enjoyed it. Woodbridge scored in all but two frames. The second and fourth, the big ones, had four runs in each. Aurora tied the can on Woodbridge pitching for three in the third and galloped home with four in the fourth to keep the game interesting.

Powerhouse swingers with Aurora were Bruce McMillan and Scotty McGhee with three each. Bob Hollingsworth was heavy stick man with the winners on three. Jack Blake, Woodbridge second sacker, got the gate for querying base ump Herb Holman with the age old question, "are you blind?" Blake's replacement, Campbell, homered with the bases loaded.

"Dewey" Doolittle, making one of his all too infrequent visits, almost joined him on the outside looking in for similar causes.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT

Still another postponement halted the town league softballers going into action. Wet grounds kept the Tanners and Bell Telephone from going at it Wednesday. So it will be Town vs. Optimists Friday night at the S.S. diamond.

P.O. IN FRONT AS LAKE LOOP WEEK TO GO

A brisk week ahead in the Simcoe circuit. It's the last, barring a few postponements. Vandorf is trailing Hope by two points for sixth and last play-off berth. Pine Orchard rose to the top of the roost with a pair of wins.

The Orchard first met and conquered Vandorf in postponed game 21-6. Vandorf blew higher than a kite in the third as Pine Orchard applied the clincher for a record shattering 16 runs. Ted Tidman was in for five, Ivan Eves mopping up for easy victory. Harold Botham, Vandorf flinger, was victim of atrocious fielding support. All Boak's men slugging. Jim Preston was ace hitter with Vandorf with three.

Pine Orchard gave the home folks another chance to cheer a 9-7 bopping of Keswick. Five-run splash in third after two out was main spike in Keswick coffin. Ivan Eves to the rescue after Ted Tidman banged for five runs in the fourth. Eves stopped 'em cold on two hits and one run. Bob Shropshire nicked Harold Smith for three, Doug Hope two to pace P.O. stick work. Tommy Hare and Charlie Stevens had two each for Keswick.

Hope dropped two. Willow Beach steam rolled them 14-3 and Cec McNeill set Hope down on seven hits. Bruce Greig settled for two, one a double, scoring two, and Lon Ganton making headway on similar production. Pretty fair sort of ball game barring a big eight runs in the sixth for Dot Menor's Beavers. Ted Anderson had four for four, Cec McNeill bopped three singles, Don Anderson a pair and Geo. Holborn stepped in with a triple.

Vandorf amputated Hope's sixth-place lead with a 7-4 win to two points. Lloyd Preston mastered Hope on four hits. Rookie outfielder Ron Stickwood tagged two, Ned Tansley and Ross Eves one each. "Dorfers" peppered Lon, Ganton for .14 solid base knocks. Bill Kingdon as well as shining in the field blasted out three hits, Allan Wideman on similar string.

Zephyr supporters overwhelmingly in favor of this sort of thing as Blues bopped Mount 15-3. Blues made merry from fourth on to score 13 runs, run Ken. Mitchell off the mound. Mitch's fielding support wilted. Don Walker finished up. Ron Kester terrific on four hits bagged by Vern. Pegg, Ross Draper, Hal Watts and Ken. Mitchell. Blues' solid sender was Bill Taylor, triple, double, single. Bill Lockie and Ches. Lunney clubbed out two each.

A surprise, right at Keswick too, as Queensville scored 4-1 win. Bruce Pegg hog-tied Keswick power-house. Charlie Stevens' double plus pair of stolen bases gave Keswick a lone run. Judd Rutledge spear-headed Queensville attack with double. Bob English two, Bill Burkholder and Jack Perry had other Queensville safeties. Alas, points go to Keswick according to league ruling.

Willow Beach 12, Queensville 8. Tie ball game to end of sixth at 8. Beavers put over four in seventh to cop it. Bruce Pegg for five, Bob English two, on "Villers" mound, Cec. McNeill route for Beach. Bruce Lockie's outfielding dazzled.

A postponed game meant more trouble for Hope — Zephyr 20, Hope 8. It was over before it was underway. Zephyr pounced on Elton Stickwood for 13 runs, brother Ron held from there on. Hope ended in a five-run burst against Ron. Kester. Ross Eves tripled with three on for the big smash. Cliff Ward, Ken. Harman main Hope hitters.

Brampton pee-wees score 30-20 win over Aurora

Despite the efforts of three pint-sized Aurora hurlers to halt a ready flow of base hits, Brampton pee wees slugged their way to a 30-20 victory over Aurora at Aurora town park last Saturday in an exhibition baseball contest. Of the Aurora hurlers, Buddy Sutton, who was hauled off first base by coach Bill Mundell, fared the best and lasted longest. Brampton had the game in the bag before it was well begun, pyramiding a flock of base hits into 15 runs in the first inning.

Tiremen too hot For Schomberg Nuggets

Schomberg "Nuggets" visited the league leading Lansing "Tiremen" at Mitchell Field and found, as many a team before them, the Tiremen a trifle too hot to handle. They came away on the short end of a 13-5 deficit. The win further solidified Lansing's lease on the top rung in the North York League while Schomberg still retains third place position.

Lansing swingers levelled off with three home runs against Ken. Ellison on the Schomberg mound for six runs, enough to win the game without benefit of other hits.

The Nuggets had but one innings that did any real damage, the third when they hopped on Ted Bennett on Lansing firing line for four runs. Phil. Stewart, Barney McCabe and Don Marchant were outstanding swatters for the vacation weakened Nuggets. Tonight (Thursday) under the lights at Schomberg, Aurora are the visitors.

Aurora pee-wees here For tilt with Newmarket

Recreation director Frank Hollingsworth says Aurora pee wee baseballers will pay a visit here Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. for an exhibition game with the local pee wee team. The game will be played at the S.S. diamond. Monday, director Hollingsworth organized the pee wee team, Tuesday bantam and Wednesday, plans to organize a minor softball league for both boys and girls.

Bradford runner for Olympics

Among those dear friends and gentle people: We discovered by accident last week that we have a potential Olympic candidate in our midst in the person of 17-year-old Billy Taunton who resides on a farm three miles above Bradford and is the senior track champion of Bradford high. Returning from Toronto on Friday, we picked up the curly-headed Bradford kid who was thumbing his way home and when we saw track shoes, the conversation was on.

Taunton, a natural athlete, became sports conscious via the radio when he listened to "Sports College of the Air" conducted by Lloyd Percival, noted Canadian trainer. Correspondence ensued, Bill faithfully galloping three miles to school and three miles over the hill-and-dale contours of highway 11 and this spring he turned up at Percival's Toronto track club trials.

In the Canadian championships he won the juvenile mile in 4.40 with plenty to spare. He's been clocked in 4.36 and can do much better he says with better competition. Runs the two mile and three mile as well and has beaten some name runners in these events in informal competition. Every day at home, he takes a jaunt around the concession "block", about six miles, to keep in shape. Plays soccer for Bradford H.S. and a bit of hockey and would like to try his hand at lacrosse. Pays his own way to Toronto for training as much as possible and may land a job in Toronto for the summer so he can keep regular training hours.

Runs in Cleveland and Buffalo next month with expenses paid and returns to school in celery-town next fall. Hopes to make an American university next year if his time is good and is definitely Olympic minded. A quiet, unassuming lad, if perseverance and tenacity mean anything he'll go far. At any rate with next to no experience he's a top grade performer in the teen-age group and Percival is mighty sweet on his chances. Too bad there isn't any central track club in these parts for

JUNIOR LADIES WIN AGAINST LOOP LEADERS

Newmarket junior gals are specializing in dramatic finishes. Tuesday they won a 9-8 thriller from league leading Sutton gals. Newmarket had to pirate to win and in the last of seventh at that. Here's the picture: eight all tie — Barbara Shropshire walked—headed for third on a passed ball—drew a throw from Sutton catcher that went wild and was home free with the winner.

Isobel Rogers knocked the cover off the ball with a three-run homer in the second to give our gals right kind of a start. It was three more in third before Sutton awoke to the fact they had a ball game on their hands.

Darlene Stuffles pitched a great game, with no hits until third when two walks and an error populated the bases but she came out of it with the loss of one run. Darlene faltered in the fourth as Sutton came on with four runs but was master of the situation from there on.

Our gals were steady in the field to give their pitcher good support with special halo to Norma Baldson, filling in 'at short. Barbara Shropshire and Glenna Woodhouse led in hits with two each. Reg Ball and side kick Geo. Watt were happy about the whole thing.

Newmarket: G. Woodhouse, N. Baldson, B. Watt, J. McDonald, B. Shropshire, M. Barker, I. Rogers.

Elgin Mills takes two By 4-3 from Aurora

Twice in a row, the front running Elgin Mills nine have topped Aurora ladies by a 4-3 count. Monday night they had to use every ounce of energy in the last of the seventh to clear the winning marker across home plate. Aurora busted down in front in the third with a three-run splash. That margin held good to the sixth.

Elgin Mills pushed over three tallies to earn a tie and followed this up with a single counter in the seventh to nose in front. Phil McKinnon on the Aurora mound pitched a terrific game and was given grade A support in the field. Lucille Case, Phil McKinnon, also in on the hitting act, and Agnes Wizner supplied the extra base clouting for Aurora. Bradford is the visitor at Aurora park tonight.

Aurora: L. Case c, P. McKinnon p, V. Bulpit lb, A. Wizner 2b, K. Forbes ss, G. Mike 3b, D. Winters, B. Mike, J. Ness, O. Payne, E. Matinoff, outfield.

verbally. It's time somebody took Master Hillson in tow before it's too late.

That sturdy young catcher for Markham midgets is Bob Petch, younger brother of Lyall and Moe. Petch, well known Markham-Stouffville baseballers and hockeyists. Moe Petch, who played on the defence with Aurora Hawks last winter, will likely bring Bob to Aurora next winter for a trial. He's said to be just as good as his brothers.

Tom Ewing just called to remind you that Newmarket Legion is holding the annual soap box derby on Wednesday, July 26. There are three cups and numerous other prizes and entries will be accepted up to 6.30 on that day. Enter now by mail, telephone or report at the Newmarket arena that day. The Legionaires are especially anxious to have one or more entries from every neighboring municipality. It's a gala event and the race itself is just the start of a whole evening of great entertainment. No need to mention the great job Cec Jarvis, Bill LaParde and all the rest are doing in the Newmarket area for the entire community.

Would like to see the Legion send its winner against other branch winners. Prescott, Pembroke and one or two more Legion branches hold soap box derbies each year. In case you don't think it's an official sport, I'll tell you that there's an officially published rule book available.

Chuck Shannon, ex-Newmarket camp hockey star and former pro, will not be back at Orangeville next winter. Orangeville intermediates went $500 in the red, necessitating the individuals behind the club to dip down in their own pockets to foot the bill. On the subject of ex-camp athletes, Jackie Rudderham, who pitched senior baseball for Liverpool in the Maritimes senior circuit. Clair Walsh, brother of Mo Walsh who played a few softball games a few years ago for Aurora, is with Port Elgin who has a hustling club this season in the Grey county circuit.
